

Singing in The Rain Jr Monologues

Don:

Well, I've had one motto which I've always lived by: Dignity - always dignity. This was instilled in me by Mom and Dad from the very beginning. They sent me to the best dancing schools.... Where I met my lifelong friend... Cosmo Brown. And with him, I used to perform for all Mom and Dad's society friends. They used to make such a fuss over me. Then, if I was very good, I was allowed to accompany Mom and Dad to the theatre. This stimulated my love for performing, and to this we added rigorous musical training at the conservatory. In a few years, Cosmo and I were ready to embark on a dance concert tour. We played the finest symphonic halls in the country.

Kathy:

Leave me alone. You're a criminal. I've seen that face someplace. You're a famous gangster. I've seen your pictures in the papers -- or in the post office, with a lot of numbers on your chest. (Takes a closer look) Wait a minute... Your Don Lockwood (hides excitement) Uh-Mr. Lockwood--I can't tell you how sorry I was about taking you for a criminal before -- but it was understandable under the circumstances. I knew I'd seen you even though I don't watch your movies. Oh, no offense. But you see, I'm not interested in the movies. I guess it's entertaining enough for the masses, but the personalities on the screen don't impress me; I mean, they don't act -- they just make a lot of numb show... Acting means great parts, wonderful lines speaking those glorious words...Shakespeare, Ibsen...Well, I am an actress.
